BY TELEGRAPH.

XXVth Congress—Second Session.

Washington, July 20.—The House bill for the relief of the Mobile and Ohio Railroad was taken up, and considerable debate ensued on the question of whether it should be referred to the Committee on Public Lands. The matter was subsequently laid over.

The invalid Pension bill was taken up and passed.

Mr. Benjamin, of Ill., reported a substitute for the bill introduced by Mr. Mason, authorizing the President to suspend the laws of the United States. The substitute was ordered to be printed.

The first section gives power to the President, whenever he deems it appropriate, to suspend the transit routes to be obstructed or closed by lawless vessels, or that an attack is threatened against the person or property of our citizens, or the land and naval forces to prevent the threatened injury on condition that the force used is withdrawn as soon as the object is accomplished.

The second section gives power in case of actual violence to the persons or property of our citizens in any of the Central American States or in Mexico, to use the land and naval forces in exacting instant redress, the force to be withdrawn as soon as the object of the first and second sections of the act is accomplished.

The third section requires an immediate report to Congress by the President, if he may do under the provisions of the first and second sections of the act.

The Pacific Railroad bill, as amended, was then taken up.

Mr. Davis, of Miss., moved to strike out all after the enacting clause, and adopt his minority report, the main features of which are as follows:

That the Pacific Railroad be constructed in ten sections of land per mile to construct the railroad, the money appropriation to be retained in the treasury, and not to be paid out until the terms therein are complied with, and no money to be paid

until the road is built to the point to which the road is to be built, and no money to be paid
